

ANDREW STETSON
TENURE AND PROMOTION

COMMENT:

Dr. Stetson is a tireless, imaginative, engaged, and engaging pedagogue and leader. He is endlessly inventive and is dedicated to his students' success both as musicians and as people. He has done an admirable and very imaginative job at building studio esprit and commitment, as evidence by his students very impressive list of awards, honors, and competitions. In addition to maintaining a very active career as an invited soloist and a commissioner of new works, he is also technologically extremely imaginative and innovative and is part of worldwide conversations on the use of technology in pedagogy.